

Broseley Church

All Saints Parish Church, built in 1845, in Broseley, south of the Severn. The town was at one time was the most important industrial centre in the area.