

Snuff Box

Inside view of Tortoiseshell snuff box, which is particularly suitable for piqué work (inlaid gold) with its ease of cutting and rich colour. The technique was popular among European gold snuff box makers in the 18th century. The lid is earlier than 1819, Joseph Taylor being only responsible for the mounting.